Aloha.

I am writing about the sailing schedule going to once a week to Moloka'i. I understand that right now, cargo has been low due to the pandemic. I am concerned about the once a week service though. I do hope that if this gets approved, it is only during this pandemic. I understand that there is no date for just opening things up, I do hope that there is a clear outline on when returning to twice a week will happen.

Our island has limited supplies as is and groceries can be pricey to begin with. I feel that once a week sailings will limit us to grocery necessities even more. Also if more perishable items are purchase at one time, more items can be wasted which can increase prices for goods.

Please consider keeping the twice a week sailings or bringing it back sooner rather than later.

Mahalo,
