Young brothers considers itself as a partner for hawaii people for inter island shipping. For some reason they will not except end users shipments. They want to have a trucking company dropped and delivered the fully crated item. Which would add considerably costs to the end user and these costs are not reasonable considering the value of the shipment (e.g. a canoe). Considering that young brothers have somewhat a monopoly here on these islands and we are depended on them as small business owner I oppose their contingency plan .
